

The Transformational Leadership Training is a two-day experience designed to reinvent and empower your personal leadership and leadership teams.

Most leaders learn a set of strategies and tactics, but are frustrated when their circumstances and people they are working with don't line up to accommodate those strategies.

THE GOAL

At GAP, we engage how you are thinking about yourself and others to open up new possibilities for conversation and action in your business, family, ministry and personal life. This training is designed to allow you to discover the automatic assumptions that influence your decision-making power through real-time, hands-on exercises, facilitated by professional transformational trainers.

It is one thing to know what to do as a leader. It is quite another to know who to be.
