

Vision Session

Brainstorm

- Why are you married?
- What unique characteristics & experiences are present in your marriage? How could these be used to benefit others?
- Your marriage has the opportunity to be a bright shining beacon for the world to see. What specific things do you want people to see and experience through your marriage?
- What future is worth having with your spouse?
- What in your marriage is life giving now? Think of one year from now, how do you want your marriage to give life? 5 years? 10 years?
- How could your marriage help or benefit others?

Narrow it down

- What is your vision for the future of your marriage that will cause you to persevere when things get difficult?
- What vision for the future of your marriage will keep you pressing forward when tempted by complacency?

Minimum: write out a statement of your vision as a couple for your marriage and your future.

Your vision may be a merger of your individual vision/mission statements or something unique that comes together when only the two of you are present. Write it as a set of vows that may include some of the ones you had previously as well as something you have added, now that you have spent some time together.
